

{...}

How it was that in philosophy I sought secret knowledge, and found pedantry instead.

Nietzsche: “How I understand the philosopher — as a terrible explosive, endangering everything.”

Alas, some bombs are duds.